

This week in Early Years...

Maths focus of the week:

Counting: we will draw attention to the purpose of counting and the understanding that the last number tells us how many there are altogether. We will rehearse the order of numbers 1 to 5 and recognise that each number has the value of one more than the previous.

Book of the week:

Congratulations!

Spencer was our Wombat risk taking star of the week. We celebrated in assembly that he consistently shares his segmenting and blending with the class.

Lucy was our Raccoon risk taking star of the week. We celebrated in assembly that she has improved her engagement during whole class learning and raises her hand more often.

Izzy was our Wombat writer of the week; she segmented and wrote a whole sentence to describe her pirate ship creation.

Elias was our Raccoon writer of the week; he was able to identify and write three initial phonemes when completing his drawing club task.

Change of shoes:

PLEASE can you provide a change of shoes for the daily mile? We did not have enough spare pairs on Friday so some children had to sadly miss out.

Focus children: We have enjoyed reading the first few favourite books from home with the class – it's so lovely to introduce new texts and share some well known ones too!
